Whistleblowers

- Have positive feelings about their jobs
- Have good job performance
- Believe that the company will be responsive to their complaints
- View whistle-blowing as integral to their role in the organization.

"Whistle-blowing, is not an act of disloyalty, but the ultimate manifestation of employee loyalty to the organization … allegiance to the organization's mission, its goals, its value statement, and its code of conduct."

Employees Prefer to Resolve Their Concerns Internally

84% of whistleblowers that reported a compliance concern outside their company first reported the concern internally.

Only after the employer failed to address the concern satisfactorily did the employee report the concern to a third party outside the company.

Addressing Employee Concerns

Bottom Line: An employee's (reporter) acceptance of the outcome and continued commitment to the organization is whether or not they believe the procedure used to handle their concern was fair.

1. Listen to them! - Give them the opportunity to describe all of his or her concerns. Show that the company cares and will follow up. Ensure they know they are doing the right thing by reporting.

2. Don't Stonewall! Ensure they see the process is fair…build trust.
   - ✓ Address their concerns irrespective of merit. Perceptions can be costly!
   - ✓ Change what needs changed. Timely.
   - ✓ Ensure there is no retaliation
   - ✓ Close the loop but do not share information about evidence, investigation, etc.

Shape Perceptions to see the big picture

✓ Proactively Inform Employees of the Specific Risks and Controls

Tell them about the elephant before they experience the tusks!

Example: An employee transfers from a low producing dental office to another practice with an extremely fast paced dentist. The employee is concerned the doctor is either 1)not performing the services being billed or 2)must be performing them with sub-par quality. They didn't know about the audit plan.

Shape Perceptions to see the big picture

- Do employees know the controls in place to address the risks that pertain to their job, department?
  - Inform them of the specific risks and how the company works to prevent & deter them.
  - Engage them as the experts on their job to enhance the Compliance Program
 - Don't keep your audits a secret

14

Ameritox

Proactively Address Perceptions with your Compliance Program

- Approach Education as though you are training every employee to be a Compliance Officer. Explain "Why".

- Risk Assessment- Increase employee engagement by including the department in the development.

What is Organizational Culture?

A Set of shared values, written and unwritten rules that guide employee behavior.

It affects the way people and groups interact with each other, with clients, and with stakeholders. In addition, organizational culture may affect how much employees identify with an organization thus impacting performance and morale.

Organizational Culture

What influences culture?

- Artifacts- Visible components of culture
  - Rituals and Ceremonies: New Hire/Annual Training, awards, Policies & Procedures
  - Symbols & Slogans-summarize intrinsic behavior.
    - Example: "No excuses, just results" or "Patients First"

- Values - the kind of behavior the organization wants to promote and reward vs. what behavior is actually promoted and rewarded.

- Stories - Narratives based on true events. Stories become company heroes. Good or bad. Employees relate to the current organization due to events that happened in the past and carries on the legacy.
